

Soliant Names 2010 Top 20 Most Beautiful Hospitals in America*Union Hospital Takes Number 4 Spot*

ATLANTA, GA (July 7, 2010) – Soliant Health, a leading specialty healthcare staffing provider and part of Adecco Group, is proud to announce that San Diego's Sharp Memorial Hospital was named America's Most Beautiful Hospital by Soliant.com visitors.

The contest, which is in its second year, turned this year's choice over to America's patients, and after more than 10,000 votes, Sharp Memorial Hospital took the top spot. Opened in 2009, this $200 million hospital features flowing lines, a curved scroll-style entrance, and a multitude of features designed to make a patient's stay more comfortable including hospital beds that play lullabies and a jade garden for relaxation.

"There is so much emerging data around what a beautiful hospital can do for a patient," said David Alexander, president of Soliant. "Sharp Memorial is the perfect example of what a strategically designed, state of the art hospital can do for the healing process."

While Sharp Memorial Hospital came away as the 2010 winner, there was stiff competition from a number of other amazing hospitals. Union Hospital in Terre Haute Indiana took the number four spot.

Union Hospital made history with the single largest construction project in Terre Haute, its new $185 million, four-story, expansion and renovation project. The Union Hospital campus continues to grow with construction of the much anticipated 500,000 sq. ft. hospital expansion. Completion of the new building construction occurred in November 2009 and it opened in January 2010.

"Our vision is for Union Hospital to be among the best hospitals in our class in the country, not just in Indiana or in this area...to say we are the best and be able to demonstrate it" said Union Hospital President and CEO David Doerr. "With the completion of the new construction, Union Hospital has 380 private rooms for inpatient and outpatient use. We enhanced and expanded our facility to bring an exceptional level of healthcare to meet the needs of the future.”
